BREWER PLANTATIONS

SHOWING BIG YIELDS:

RAIN NEEDED IN KAU

With the exception of those on the Kau side, the Brewer plantations on Hawaii are making good progress. Richard Ivers, secretary of Brewer & Co., said today on his return from an inspection trip on the Big Island today. A dry spell on the Kau side has hampered operations and held back grinding considerably, he said.

On the Hilo side the weather has been favorable and the crop is making a good showing both in quantity and quality.

CRACK SKATING PAIR

SHOWING AT RINK

Last night at the skating rink, Randall and Donnelly opened a limited engagement before a large audience. Master Bennie Randall is a champion juvenile skater with records from all the largest rinks in the states. The ease with which he performed intricate tricks and dancing steps last evening before the local audience, was applauded. The other member of the team, Donnelly, is a distance man and an eccentric skater.

These two skaters will introduce all the latest steps and novelties in rink work and will exhibit every evening and afternoon during their engagement.

The management announces a brass band in attendance in the future and the introduction of many new skating fads.

BARGES FOR HILO

BREAKWATER ON

WAY FROM COAST

Equipment Bought on Main-land Described By Contractor's Son

George B. Marshall, who is interested with his father, George E. Marshall, in the Hilo breakwater contract, returned from the coast in the Wilhelmina this morning. With him is Fred H. Pickles, who will have charge of part of the work.

Marshall senior returned from the coast on March 9, leaving his son to superintend the construction of two model barges, which are to be used in transporting large rock for the cap and slope of the Hilo breakwater from the Walpio quarry. These barges are being shipped to Hilo in sections and will be put together there by men sent over by the original builders. It was impossible for Marshall to get marine insurance on the barges for a tow across the Pacific and it was therefore necessary to ship them in sections.

The seagoing tug purchased by G. E. Marshall in Seattle is expected to arrive at Hilo within a few days. This tug is being conveyed by a larger vessel for half the distance, the idea being to replenish the fuel supply in midocean. The tug was recently purchased by Marshall in Seattle, and before taking it the contractor had it thoroughly tested by towing loaded barges, the tug developing 600 horsepower, according to Marshall.

The new rock barges are expected at Hilo about April 1 and will be set up and ready for operation by the first of May.

KAMANELE PARK

DEDICATED IN

MANOA VALLEY

Queen Liliuokalani, Mayor and Board of Supervisors Join in Ceremony

Kamanele park, the new five-acre park tract set aside at Vancouver road and Kaala Point, Manoa valley, was formally dedicated by 10 flower-laid girls yesterday in the presence of Queen Liliuokalani, Mayor Lane, Supervisors Logan and Hollinger and Mrs. Gertrude Johnson Blake and 100 other members of the Outdoor Circle.

Carrying great armfuls of flowers, the ten little girls, dressed in white, mounted to the top of a pyramid-shaped rock and strewing their leis over the rocks, they sang:

"I name thee, O park, Kamanele."

Queen Liliuokalani was escorted to the park by Mayor Lane. The members of the Manoa Club and Outdoor Circle and other guests occupied a place of vantage on the lanai of the Blake residence, directly opposite the park.

The name Kamanele was selected at the suggestion of Mrs. Mary J. Montano and was adopted because of the fact that the Princess Kamanele once resided in what is now known as Manoa valley. P. C. Jones, formerly treasurer of Punahou Academy, explained that the Oahu College trustees purchased the valley for $1250, 130 acres, when the college was first organized, and that the institution realized $92,000 by selling subdivisions and lots.

He said that the college set aside the five-acre tract now known as Kamanele park for park purposes. Miss Kulamau Ward read an interesting historical paper on the choice of name for the park, with extempore remarks adding much to the pleasure of the audience. Mrs. Jonathan Shaw, in touching manner, conveyed the approval of the name by her mother, the venerable Mrs. Sereno Bishop, now over 90 years of age.

Mayor Lane and Supervisors Hollinger and Logan assured those present that the city officials would do everything possible towards assisting the civic workers of the valley in making the valley park a beauty spot. During the ceremonies, Mrs. Julian Wainika and Mrs. Kale Maikai sat at the former queen's feet and chanted Hawaiian songs. A girls' glee club also sang.

"Kamanele park is going to be different from any other park in the city," according to Mr. Ehrhorn's remarks yesterday, "and its share of old from the municipal coffers will be money well spent. The spirit shown at the dedication ceremonies yesterday, both by the Manoa branch of the Outdoor Circle and the representative of the local improvement club, was encouraging of belief that the best the supervisors can do for the park will really be only a small proportion of the total outlay of thought, effort and money in making Kamanele park something different."

"With the castellated background of mossrock left by a primeval lava flow, draped with rare varieties of night-blooming cereus and flowering vines, as Mr. Ehrhorn described the scene, some of the interstices holding the rich leafy plant, as Mayor Lane was applauded for suggesting, and the gently sloping lawn area in the foreground embellished with well-selected foliage and flowers, this new park in the midst of the marvellously grand valley, already profusely studded with opulent homes and classic groves, will be one of the finest show places as well as one of the most ideal resting nooks in all Honolulu. In fact it is bound to become a prime asset of promotion."

"Manoa, in this esthetic enterprise, again bids for leadership among suburban sections."

AN OVERBURDENED WIFE

If the work that women do and the pains they suffer could be measured in figures, what a terrible array they would present! Through girlhood, wifehood and motherhood woman tolls on, often suffering with backache, pains in side, headaches and nervousness which are tell-tale symptoms of organic derangements which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—made from roots and herbs—can undoubtedly correct. Women who suffer should not give up hope until they have given it a trial.—advertisement.
